SUMMARY

Driven by my passion for art and eagerness to entertain I have always been drawn to new opportunities to expand my creative skill set.

I have a keen interest in all stages of the animation pipeline. I typically work in with a team although I have produced several animated shorts by myself. In particular I find developing 3D characters the most enjoyable stage, from an initial sculpt to an animation ready character.

I am always excited to learn new skills and software while developing my existing techniques further.
